Visionary Installers Sharing Inspired Thoughts

Rooms to Let 2018

The Visit creates experiential exhibitions bringing together the visual arts, poetry, music and dance. We began with a Cosmic Folktale and that took us to Bridgette's Journey, which led us to Breathe life into Fire Fish on the Lorain shores. Now we are mounting our Origin story at Rooms to Let 2018 and plan to reignite the energy that brought us all together.

Our Theme is ORIGINS (From any point of view):

We will take a home slated to be demolished and transform every room available in accordance to our theme. Every artist will have a space in the house to imagine and create his or her origins. Please note that The Visit recognizes and embraces the temporality of our existence here and in this dimension. We do not assume a born date, nor do we claim demise in any other way but physical. We, after all, are just visiting. In our core group there are four members and we will each stake a claim in a space that inspires us as we investigate, extrapolate and communicate to the viewers our beginnings. We invite you to showcase your voice along with ours.

What we require:

*Imagine a beginning from anywhere, from anyway out of anything. Every Superhero has a beginning and now you have a chance to bring it to light.

*Remember we will be in a space that has been inhabited by others. People were conceived, born and may have ended within the walls of our house. We have to honor and respect them knowing that their energy remains.

*Whatever we create we have to make sure we can rebuild it again. Origins will not end here. We will not be torn down along with the structure. We will gather the energy of the space and transform another place with you again. Make your art transportable and collapsible.

*To the best of our ability we will advertise and create merchandise from this space to sell on our site separate from the space. Your participation and ability to gain revenue will go on with The Visit throughout the year as we select site #2.

One of our missions is to create financial sustainability for artists because so much of what we do is given away.

More to come as we flush out the details with Slavic Village
